FSU Mission Statement

The Florida State University is a comprehensive, graduate-research university with a liberal arts base. It offers undergraduate, graduate, advanced graduate, and professional programs of study; conducts extensive research, and provides service to the public in accord with its statewide mission. The University's primary role is to serve as a center for advanced graduate and professional studies while emphasizing research and providing excellence in undergraduate programs.

CON Mission

To develop nursing leaders for professional practice and research in diverse settings

Program Outcomes for the MSN Graduate

Upon completion of the program the graduate will:

- + Integrate nursing and related sciences to improve practice and outcomes in educational and clinical settings.
- + Design and delivery evidence-based, culturally relevant strategies and interventions in educational and clinical settings.
- + Demonstrate scholarship and analytical methods when planning and evaluating evidence based nursing practice.
- + Apply information technology when evaluating outcomes of care, health delivery, and quality improvement.
- + Advocate for policies that improve the health of the public and the profession for nursing.
- + Advocate for the value and role of the professional nurse as a member and leader of inter-professional healthcare teams.
- + Apply learning and teaching principles to the design, implementation, and evaluation of health education programs for individuals or groups in a variety of settings.
- + Examine the effect of legal and regulatory processes on nursing practice, healthcare delivery and outcomes.
