

The Jeanne Moran Foundation was established in 2004 on the occasion of Jeanne and Thomas Moran's 50th Wedding Anniversary. With the intention to honor the personal commitment to service, compassionate care, and humanism that Jeanne consistently demonstrates, the Foundation established a scholarship fund for deserving women entering a health professions field.

Each year the Jeanne Moran Health Professions Scholarship will have funds available in minimum amounts of $1000 per semester available to women pursuing secondary education in the health professions, with particular emphasis on students interested in serving in a primary care capacity and with the intention of practicing in the Central Florida area (primarily Orlando.) Examples of some health professions to be considered are nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy, pharmacy, medicine, optometry, and dentistry. Other health professions with direct patient care are also encouraged to apply. Funds may be applied towards tuition, books, fees, uniforms, equipment or other educational expenses and will be distributed directly to the scholarship recipients' schools. Candidates may be full or part time students. No race, religion, age, ethnicity or financial limitations apply.

Successful candidates will be currently enrolled in an appropriate program or a high school senior accepted into an appropriate program at an accredited school. The candidate must have demonstrated leadership, integrity, commitment to service, good moral character, ambition and a sincere desire to achieve a higher level of education in a health related field. Demonstrated academic achievement and scholarship is a necessity.

The application packet must include a completed Jeanne Moran Foundation Health Professions Scholarship application, two letters of recommendation and school transcripts.
